More Fun/Play/Joy in Your Life - Some Quotations

Play is the exultation of the possible.

Martin Buber

If you are losing your leisure, look out; you may be losing your soul.

Logan Pearsall Smith

A song is no song unless the circumstance is free and fine.

Emerson

The great man is he who does not lose his child's heart.

Mencius

One ought, every day at least, to hear a little song, read a good poem, see a fine picture, and, if it were possible, to speak a few reasonable words.

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

There is no pleasure in having nothing to do; the fun is in having lots to do and not doing it.

Mary Wilson Little

Mingle some brief folly with your wisdom.

Horace

For we that live to please must please to live.

Samuel Johnson

Albert Einstein

Age does not make us childish, as they say.

It only find us true children still.

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Pleasure is produced by the union of excitement and affection.

Balzac

The honest man takes pains, and then enjoys pleasures.

Benjamin Franklin

Rest is not idleness, and to lie sometimes on the grass under the tree on a summer's day, listening to the murmur of the water, or watching the clouds float across the sky, is by no means a waste of time.

Sir J. Lubbock

The true touchstone of wit is the impromptu.

Moliere

Leisure is a mental and spiritual attitude. . . an attitude of contemplative "celebration" which draws its vitality from affirmation.

Josef Pieper

. . . leisure and a quiet mind.

Henry David Thoreau

Curiosity is delight.

Walter Charleton

Things don't give us anything except what we bring to the enjoyment of them.

Lin Yutang
